Dear Isbekedi,

Your two cheques & your letter came safely to hand on Saturday, & I am now writing to thank you for all your trouble in disposing of the cattle for us, & sending on the money for same. We greatly appreciate the interest you have taken in the matter, & also for your promise to sell the remainder of the stock at the earliest possible opportunity. We shall be glad to receive news of you & your wife, & so be able to keep in touch with all our old Bechuana friends in the future days, as although we are getting farther & farther away from your country as the years pass, yet we shall always hold you & your people in affectionate remembrance. We have had our daughter Mata - her little daughter & baby son on a short visit to us, but they are back again now at their home in Bloemfontein. Our next happy prospect is seeing Enid & her husband, as they are spending Easter down here with us. If I can persuade Enid, I shall try & keep her with us for 10 days or more, but as her husband has to return to business by Tuesday, I doubt if she will be willing to stay over for more than a few days. Larby writes from Lusaka, fairly cheerily, & tells of lions roaming around the Jolly corner there - he adds "most folks are taking up Tennis here now"!! Please remember us both very kindly to Damane & Bonyoile, & with our affectionate greetings to your wife & yourself.

I remain, Yours Sincerely
W. L. Jennings
